

Wake Up Neo...

...The Matrix Has You.

Sadly real life here in America today is not all that different from that portrayed in the Matrix Movie Trilogy. The mass of the general population are being kept asleep in their pods. Oblivious of the machine that is keeping them in servitude. Controlling their lives all the while believing they are free. Also as in the Matrix Trilogy there is a minority group of rebels who have broken free from the illusion and control of the machine and are fighting for the survival of America as a Nation and the freedom of everyone.

America is in trouble Neo. She is under attack, on several fronts, and is very close to being lost to us all. If she goes so does our freedom, liberty, welfare and safety. All this is happening right under our noses, right in front of us!
